

Financial Firms Need Multi-cloud Security Solutions

54%

of financial organizations need a solution that monitors and delivers visibility across their various cloud service providers to ensure compliance with security posture and processes.

Financial firms need to ensure security across their entire multi-cloud environment through monitoring tools that provide consistent levels of visibility across providers. GigaSECURE® Cloud from Gigamon provides centralized orchestration and single-pane-of-glass visualization across on-premises and public cloud environments. Go beyond CSP-native tools with the capability and efficiency of your existing security monitoring solutions, extended across the multi-cloud landscape.

LEARN MORE

Original survey question:

What is your perception of the current ability to monitor across the various cloud service providers your organization uses to ensure compliance with its security posture and processes?

Survey respondents:

513 IT decision makers at global organizations using at least two unique public cloud infrastructure service providers.

This InstaGraphic was created by ESG on behalf of:

